2.1.15. The General Terms and Conditions for the provision of banking services, as defined by the General Agreement, shall apply to all services provided for by the General Agreement. If the General Terms and Conditions for the provision/performance of certain types of services provided for by the relevant section of the General Agreement regulate the legal relations of the Parties differently than the General Terms and Conditions for the provision of banking services, the General Terms and Conditions for the provision/performance of such individual types of services provided for by the relevant section of the General Agreement shall apply (prevail).

2.1.16. If any provision of the General Agreement is recognised to be invalid, this shall not invalidate other provisions of the General Agreement.

2.2.1. The present General Agreement and any individual agreement entered into between the Bank and Client within the framework of the General Agreement shall be in Ukrainian. Should the need arise, the Bank may furnish copies of the abovementioned documents in other languages, with Ukrainian versions being, however, the legally binding versions.

2.3. Legal relationships between the Parties

2.3.1. Legal relationships between the Parties under the General Agreement come into effect upon the Client's acceptance of the offer stipulated in this General Agreement, and these relationships continue in perpetuity.

2.3.2. All supplemental agreements/applications entered into/filed under this General Agreement are prepared by the Bank using a standard form and are an integral part of the General Agreement. In addition, any document signed by the Parties and referred to as being an integral part of the General Agreement forms an integral part of the General Agreement.

2.3.3. The General Agreement shall be deemed concluded after the Bank receives a signed Application from the Client. By signing the Application, the Client shall unconditionally accept the terms and conditions of the General Agreement, accede to the Agreement and confirm that they have familiarised themselves with the terms and conditions of this public offer and agrees with the Fee Schedule, the Operating Regulations, accepts them, accedes to them and undertakes to comply with them. 2.3.4. By accepting this public offer, the Client acknowledges that all the provisions of the General Agreement are fair and reasonable. In addition, bearing in mind the freedom of contract, in some instance the Parties have amicably derogated from the provisions of the acts of civil legislation and have settled their relationships at their own discretion, and have therefore agreed that they will have no claims to each another to this effect.

2.3.5. The date of the General Agreement between the Bank and the Client shall be the date of the Client's acceptance of this offer by signing the Application, unless otherwise provided for by this General Agreement.

2.3.6. The place of execution of the General Agreement shall be the place of conclusion of the supplemental agreement to it or initiation of the first cash transaction without signing the Application at the location of the Bank branch.

2.3.7. By signing the Application, the Client agrees to the procedure for the processing of their personal data in the manner prescribed by the General Agreement.

2.3.8. 2.3.9. Should the Client carry out transactions on the basis of agreements concluded with the Bank prior to the date of the first placement of this public offer, this shall constitute the Client's confirmation of accession to the terms and conditions of the General Agreement as well as the Client's unconditional consent to the terms and conditions of the General Agreement from the date of such placement. For the purposes of provision of services to Clients who had legal relations with the Bank prior to the date of the first placement of this public offer under the terms and conditions of this General Agreement, all agreements entered into by and between the Bank and the Client prior to the date of the first placement of this public offer shall be deemed to be supplemental agreements to this General Agreement concluded with respect to the relevant banking service. If an agreement entered into by and between the Bank and the Client prior to the date of the first placement of this public offer or the Supplemental Agreement made in accordance with the General Agreement establishes other terms and conditions governing the relations of the Parties subject to the provisions of this General Agreement, the terms and conditions of the General Agreement shall prevail. The Parties shall be entitled to derogate from this rule, and it shall not apply in cases where this is expressly indicated in the Banking Service Agreement entered into by and between the Parties.

2.3.10. By entering into this General Agreement and/or by providing the Bank with their mobile phone number, the Client grants the Bank their consent to identify them as a Client of the Bank and to credit funds from transfers initiated by another Client of the Bank to their current account using the mobile phone number communicated by the Client to the Bank. The Client confirms that they have personally communicated their telephone number to another Client of the Bank so that this individual may transfer funds to their current account using the communicated telephone number. The Client shall have the right to object to funds transferred by another Client via this telephone number being credited to their current account by contacting the Contact Centre of the Bank and completing the identification process.

2.4. Introduction of amendments to the General Agreement

2.4.1. All changes to the General Agreement and/or the Fee Schedule, and/or Operational Regulations during the period of its validity shall be made by agreement of the Parties, which may occur in the following order: the Bank shall inform the Client of changes in the General Agreement and/or Operational Regulations fourteen (14) calendar days, and of changes in the Fee Schedule thirty (30) calendar days before the date of the implementation of changes by notifying the Client about them through the electronic banking system Internet Banking, Mobile Application, placing their text on the Bank's website and/or placing a copy of them in the premises of the operating and/or cash departments of the Bank's branches, and/or by notifying the Client by means of postal communication and/or software application (messenger) Rakuten Viber. If the Client does not submit written objections to the Bank before the date of the implementation of changes, changes shall be considered accepted. In case the Bank receives a written objection from the Client before the date of the implementation of changes, such objection shall be considered the Client's offer to early terminate the General Agreement. The date of termination of the General Agreement by the Parties shall be the date of execution by the Bank of the respective written consent to be sent to the Client. At the same time, in case the Client has a time deposit, the term of placement of which has not expired, and/or an overdraft established on the current account, which has not been repaid by the Client, termination of the General Agreement is possible after expiry of the term of placement of the Client's time deposit and/or their fulfilment of the obligations to repay the overdraft established on the current account.

2.4.2. A change in the term deposit interest rate, which does not apply to Supplemental Agreements of the General Contract on the Deposit Account Opening and Servicing concluded between the Bank and the Client and effective on the date of its introduction, shall be effective from the date this change is posted in the premises of the operational and/or cashier departments of the Bank (its branches), and subsequent posting on the Bank's Website, or as otherwise set forth herein. The Bank shall notify the Client of a change reducing the savings account interest rate fourteen (14) calendar days before its introduction. The Bank shall notify the Client of an increase in the savings account interest rate no less than one (1) calendar day before the date of its introduction.

2.4.3. Amendments to the Master Agreement may also be made by the Parties by concluding a respective Supplemental Agreement on amendments to the Master Agreement. In this case, the amended terms shall become effective from the date the Supplemental Agreement hereto is signed and shall not be retroactive.

2.4.4. The Client undertakes the obligation to independently familiarise themselves with the Bank's proposal to change the terms of the General Agreement on the Bank's Internet site, where the electronic version of the current version of the General Agreement is posted, and/or monitor its presence/absence in the operating/cash room of the Bank's branch, where the written version of the current version of the General Agreement is placed in the information folders for the Clients.

2.4.5. 2.4.6. If the Client waives certain services in their entirety or in part (an individual legal transaction), or if the Bank terminates the provision of certain services in their entirety or in part (an individual legal transaction) on the grounds set forth in the General Agreement or the legislation, then the General Agreement shall continue to maintain validity for the services which are still used by the Client.

2.5. Automatic renewal for a new term, suspension and termination of services, closure of accounts

2.5.1. The Parties have agreed that all services rendered under the General Agreement on conditions of automatic renewal for a new term shall continue for the next term with no need to sign an supplemental agreement on the introduction of changes, provided that the Client pays for such services in accordance with the Fee Schedule valid at the time of such renewal. There are no restrictions as to the number of renewals.

2.5.2. The Bank may suspend any service in its entirety or in part and/or all services in their entirety within the framework of the General Agreement, if the Client fails to pay for services rendered by the Bank within two (2) calendar months. In such cases, the Client's savings/current accounts will be closed and the Bank will send the Client an SMS message fourteen (14) days prior to account closure.

2.5.3. The Parties have agreed that the absence of any movement of funds on the Client's current or savings account for more than 180 consecutive days (except for contractual debiting funds from such an account by the Bank or payment of commission fees), or longer than 20 consecutive days from the establishment of business relations, provided that the corresponding supplementary agreement to the General Agreement is concluded as an electronic document via the Mobile Application, will be deemed to be a Client's offer to terminate the Bank Account Agreement. In this case, the Bank shall have the right to accept the Client's offer and close the Client's account without additional notification thereof. In these cases, the respective supplemental agreement on the account shall be deemed to have been terminated at the initiative of the Client from the date of closing the account by the Bank. The provisions referred to in this section shall be understood by the Client and the Bank as an application to close the account, and therefore the implementation of these provisions will be carried out without a separate application by the Client for the account to be closed.

2.5.4. Subject to the appropriate notice period – fourteen (14) days – the Bank may terminate the business relationship as a whole and terminate the provision of certain services (relevant transactions carried out under the terms of the General Agreement) at any time upon the expiry of 14 days from the date of the notice sent to the Client.

2.5.5. In case it is decided to close the Client's account as provided for by the Law of Ukraine “On Prevention and Counteraction to Legalisation (Laundering) of the Proceeds from Crime, Terrorist Financing, and Financing of Proliferation of Weapons of Mass Destruction”, the Bank will notify the Client about the account closure no later than 1 (one) day before the closure. Additionally, the Parties have agreed that, in the case of a remaining balance on the Client's account to be closed, the Bank shall return such balance exclusively by transferring the funds to the Client's account at another bank.

2.5.6. Business relations in general or a specific service may be terminated without due notification of the Client within the established time frames only when further business relations with the Client are impermissible for the Bank in accordance with the laws of Ukraine and/or by-laws of the Bank and/or they may put the Bank at risk of (involvement in) risky activities threatening the interests of the depositors or other creditors of the Bank and/or actions provided for by the Criminal Code of Ukraine.

2.5.7. After closing the Client's account, the Bank shall retain such funds of the Client as were available in the Client's account at the time of its closure, without accruals and payment of fees to the Client for such retention. Taking into account the period of limitation/prescription, the Bank shall return the funds to the Client at the Client's first written request, subject to the provisions of the Operational Rules and Fee Schedules adopted by the Bank which are valid at the time of the Client's request. The Client agrees that the return of the funds by the Bank according to the above method after closing the account is the due fulfilment of the Bank's obligations to refund money to the Client after closing the account. The Client authorises the Bank to deduct the sum of expenses related to such return from the amount of funds to be returned.

2.5.8. The Bank has the right to close the Client's account if there are grounds provided by the Tax Code of Ukraine. In such cases, the balance of funds on the Client's account shall be returned to that Client.

2.5.9. The Client has the right, by using the mobile phone number provided to the Bank in the Client Questionnaire or provided to the Bank in another manner specified in this General Agreement, to contact the Bank during an incoming or outgoing call to request the closure of their current and/or savings account under the following conditions:

2.5.9.2. if there is a balance of funds on the Client's account that needs to be closed in the amount, which does not exceed the amount equivalent to EUR 20 at the official UAH-EUR exchange rate set by the National Bank of Ukraine on the day the Client contacts the Bank, such balance can be transferred at the Client's order into the Bank's income without a separate written request or payment instruction;

2.5.9.3. if there is no seizure or other encumbrance of funds on the account, outstanding obligations of the Client to the Bank or other reasons making it impossible to close it;

2.5.9.4. after the Client successfully completes identification and the Bank establishes that there are no reasons making it impossible to close the account, the account specified by the Client is closed within seven (7) calendar days from the date the Client contacts the Bank. In case of discovery of reasons making it impossible to close the account (encumbrances, restrictions, etc.), the Bank does not close the account specified by the Client and does not notify the Client of its non-closure.

2.5.10. The Client has the right to apply to the Bank by means of Internet Banking to close the current/savings account specified by the Client or all of their accounts with a corresponding letter to this effect, drawn up in any form. At the same time, the Client's current account in the relevant currency, if the Client has a single current account in such currency, is closed with the simultaneous closure of the savings account to it in the same currency, and the execution and submission to the Bank of a separate written application for the closure of such savings account is not required

2.5.11. Termination of individual banking services, i.e. termination of a supplemental agreement entered into within the framework of the General Agreement, does not make it necessary to terminate the General Agreement in its entirety.

2.6. Client identification and verification

2.6.1. As a precondition for entering into the General Agreement on the provision of services to the Client or making any transaction, the Client shall submit documents that enable the Bank to verify the identity of the Client as well as a written specimen signature.

The Client represents and warrants that a person who has provided the correct password is the person authorised by the Client. To protect the interests of the Client, the Bank may suspend services and banking transactions of the Client until the Bank is in receipt of documents which duly, legibly and explicitly confirm rights and powers of the Client and/or the Client's representatives.

2.6.5. In addition to the Client, a person whose authorisation to represent the Client has been documented to the Bank's satisfaction may use the funds in the Client's account. The Bank is entitled to request that the Client carry out any given transaction personally. The Bank is not obliged to accept any document that does not confirm the right of representation legibly and explicitly. Documents confirming the right of representation must be prepared in accordance with the requirements established in the Applicable Law and by the Bank. The Bank may require notarisation of documents which are created outside the Bank and used to confirm the right of representation.
